

The Worker's Guide

To make application for a Work Visa or Work Permit you will need to supply

- a completed, signed application form
- the application fee (see our leaflet New Zealand Immigration's Guide to Fees (NZIS 1028))
- your passport (which must be valid for at least 3 months past the date you plan to leave New Zealand)
- a recent passport size photograph

Note: If you applying under a Working Holiday Scheme do not use this form. Please use our form Application for a New Zealand Working Holiday (NZIS 1085), or

If you are applying under Business policy - Long-Term Business Visa and Permit Category please use our form Application for Long-Term Business Visa and Permit (NZIS 1058).

General requirements you must meet

All applicants under Work Visa and Permit policy must be bona fide applicants, and meet health and character requirements. A bona fide applicant is a person who can show they genuinely intend a temporary stay in New Zealand for a lawful purpose. You should provide evidence of your genuine intent and lawful purpose with your application. Evidence may include:

- any information or documents showing you have a legitimate need to spend time working in New Zealand for a specific period, and
- any documents or information showing you meet the policy provisions relevant to the Work Visa or Permit policy you are applying under.

You may also be asked to supply

- evidence of the arrangements you have made for your living expenses in New Zealand
- evidence of the arrangements you have made to leave New Zealand at the end of your stay
- any other documents or information requested by a visa or immigration officer.

There may be additional special requirements depending on which Work Visa and Permit policy you are applying under. For details on available policies and their requirements see our Guide for Working in New Zealand (NZIS 1016).

Offers of employment in New Zealand

If the policy relevant to your application requires you to have an offer of employment, but does not specify what information that offer of employment must contain, any offer of employment you submit to the NZIS with your application must contain the following information:

- name, address, telephone and/or fax number of your employer, and
- confirmation of the job that is being offered to you, and
- a full job description of the job you have been offered including:
 - the job title or designation,
 - the address of the place of employment if different from that in bullet point 1 above,
 - the type of work, duties and responsibilities involved,
 - details of pay and conditions of employment,
 - any qualifications, experience or training required,
 - confirmation of whether or not registration in New Zealand is required,
 - the duration of the job, and
 - how long the offer of employment is open.

You must also provide evidence that you are suitably qualified by training and experience to do the job you have been offered.

If you have an offer of employment and are applying under General Work Policy

You must also obtain the following information from your employer and submit it with your application:

- evidence of genuine attempts made by your employer to attract and recruit staff from within New Zealand, and the reasons why New Zealand applicants:
 - were not suitable, or
 - refused to perform the work, or
 - were unable to be readily trained to do the work.

unless

- your employer has already obtained an Approval in Principle from the NZIS for your recruitment, or
- your offer of employment is in an occupation on the current Occupational Skills List, or
- you are applying under General Work Policy - Other Categories in a category which has specific requirements.

For details on these policies and their specific requirements see our Guide for Working in New Zealand (NZIS 1016).

If required to by a visa or immigration officer, your employer may also have to supply evidence of past and future compliance with New Zealand's employment and immigration law.

Health and Character requirements

You must provide evidence that you meet immigration health and character requirements when you submit your application if:

- you intend to stay in New Zealand for longer than 24 months, or
- a specific Work Permit or Work Visa Policy requires you to provide evidence of your health and character, or
- a visa or immigration officer requires you to provide evidence of your health and character.

If you are required to provide evidence of your health and character you must provide the following:

Health

- a fully completed Medical and X-Ray Certificate form (NZIS 1007) Medical Certificate for New Zealand. (Pregnant women or children under the age of 12 are not required to provide an x-ray certificate unless a special report is required), and
- any associated medical or laboratory reports required by the Medical and X-ray Certificate form.

Note: All medical and X-ray certificates and associated reports must be less than 3 months old at the time you make your application. Some NZIS offices use a selected panel of medical practitioners or institutions to perform medical examinations. Contact your closest NZIS office to check for the names and addresses of the approved panels, or visit our website at <http://www.immigration.govt.nz>.

Character

- police certificates from your country of citizenship and from any country in which you have lived for 5 or more years since attaining the age of 17 years.

Note: All police certificates must be less than 6 months old at the time you make application.

IF YOU ARE APPLYING UNDER

- one of the Work to Residence policies, or
- Specific Purpose or Event policy, or
- Student and Trainee policy, or
- one of the International/Humanitarian policies,

you must submit any evidence required by the policy you are applying under at the time you make application.

For details on these policies and their specific requirements see our Guide for Working in New Zealand (NZIS 1016).

OR

If you are the spouse, de facto partner or intended spouse of a New Zealand citizen/resident, you must supply:

- evidence of your relationship with your New Zealand citizen/resident spouse, de facto partner or intended spouse that shows:
 - how long your relationship has existed, and
 - that your relationship is genuine, and
- evidence of your spouse's, de facto partner's or intended spouse's New Zealand citizenship/residence, and
- a letter from your spouse, de facto partner or intended spouse supporting this application, and
- evidence you and your spouse, de facto partner or intended spouse are intending to live in New Zealand for the same period of time.

OR

If you are the spouse or de facto partner of the holder of a work visa or work permit current for more than six months, you must supply:

- evidence of your relationship with the work visa or permit holder, and
- evidence of your partner's work visa or work permit or eligibility to obtain a work visa or work permit, and
- any other evidence required by a visa or immigration officer.

OR

If you are part of an employment exchange, you must supply:

- written evidence that you have been accepted on an exchange.

Detach and retain this information sheet, if desired.

Application to Work in New Zealand

(to travel to New Zealand or to be in New Zealand temporarily to work)

Application No.

For NZIS Use Only

This form may be used to apply for a visa or permit, or both.

- ☐ I am applying for a work visa. Mark this box if you want to travel to New Zealand to work or if you already have a work permit and want to leave New Zealand and return to continue working.
- ☐ I am applying for a work permit. Mark this box if you are in New Zealand and want to work here temporarily or if you already have a work permit and want a further work permit.
- ☐ I am applying for a work permit and a work visa. Mark this box if you are in New Zealand and want to work here temporarily and you also want to be able to leave New Zealand while your work permit is current and return to continue working.

What Work Visa and Permit policy are you applying under?

Work to Residence ☐ General Work ☐ Family ☐ Other (please specify)

Please note: if you are in New Zealand and applying for a further permit, you need to allow sufficient time for a decision to be made on your application before your current permit expires.

If your permit does expire, your application for a further permit does not make your stay in New Zealand lawful or give you the right to remain in New Zealand while your application is being considered.

Section G Declaration

I understand the questions and contents of this form, and the information I have provided is true and correct.

I understand that if, between the time that I make this application and the time it is decided, or between the time I am issued with a visa and the time I travel to New Zealand, any relevant matter relating to the application changes, I am obliged to inform the NZIS.

I understand I am responsible for making sure I leave New Zealand before my permit expires and that if I do not I may face removal action.

Only residents or citizens of Australia and the United Kingdom, people holding temporary permits for a stay of 2 years or more, and people approved entry especially for medical treatment, are normally entitled to free use of publicly funded health services in New Zealand. If not entitled to free treatment, I will pay for any health care or medical assistance I may require in New Zealand.

I authorise NZIS to provide information about my state of health and my immigration status to any health service agency. I authorise any health service agency to provide information about my state of health to the NZIS.

I authorise NZIS to make any enquiries it considers necessary in respect of information provided on this form in order to make a decision on this application and enquiries about my subsequent immigration status. I authorise any agency which holds information (including personal information) relevant to those matters to disclose that information to NZIS.

If granted a Limited Purpose Permit I understand that I am subject to immediate removal from New Zealand without appeal if I remain in New Zealand after the expiry date of that Permit.

Important Note: It is in your own interest to submit with your application the information and documents requested in this form, plus any other item you think will show you meet the Work Visa and Permit policy you are applying under. The NZIS does not have to seek any additional information from you and may make a decision based on the information contained in your application alone if that is all you provide. Failure to supply the information required at the time you make application could also delay the processing of your application.

Privacy Act

The information about you on this form is collected to determine your eligibility for a Work Visa or Permit.

The main recipient of the information is the New Zealand Immigration Service of the Department of Labour but it may also be shared with other Government agencies which are entitled to this information under applicable legislation, or with other agencies in accordance with an authority in the form.

The address of the New Zealand Immigration Service is PO Box 3705, Wellington, New Zealand. This is not where your application should be sent.

The collection of the information is authorised by the Immigration Act 1987 and the Immigration Regulations made under that Act. The supply of the information is voluntary, but if you do not supply it then your application is likely to be declined.

You will, if you come to New Zealand, have a right to see the information about you held by the New Zealand Immigration Service and to ask for any of it to be corrected if you think that is necessary.

Your application should be sent to your nearest New Zealand Immigration Service Branch or New Zealand Embassy or High Commission.
